“We are honored to be entrusted with the management of The Addington and excited to build on its great reputation for quality care,” said Phil Kelsey, KR Management’s Chief Operations Officer. “The Addington is a name that conveys the warmth and character of our facility and its surroundings. It’s important for the West Palm Beach community know that while the ownership and name have changed here, the people and programs our patients and residents love have not.”

The Agency for Health Care Administration approved the license change of ownership effective April 1.

The change in ownership prompted the name change; however, KR Management had been managing the facility on an interim basis since Feb. 15. Day to day operations will continue to be overseen by Robert Campion in his role as Executive Director of The Addington at Wellington Green.

Formerly known as NuVista Living at Wellington Green, the 120-bed post-acute care center and 52 bed assisted living facility originally opened in 2011.

The assisted living facility provides an intimate, family-like senior living experience for residents with private apartments, full dining room with kosher and vegetarian meal plans, and a wide variety of off-site and on-site social activities from shopping trips to entertainment, guest speakers to celebrations.

The post-acute care center provides short-term rehabilitative care following a hospital procedure with an emphasis on excellent continuity of medical care and high-quality outcomes for patients. It features a medically-supervised, comfortable environment staffed with nurses, certified nursing assistants and specialists in physical therapy, speech therapy and more.
